No wonder you feel ugly, mean and ill-tempered. Your system is full of bile not properly passed off, and what you need is a cleansing up inside. ### First Committee Chairman.

Representative A. H. Arrington, chairman of the committee on insurance, on the part of the house, in the general assembly is the first committee chairman that the town of Killingly has had in the legislature for 27 years.

SUPERVISOR REAPPOINTED.

A. S. Ames to Begin Fourth Year at Increased Salary.

Rev. Clarence H. Barber, Killingly member of the supervisory committee of Killingly and Brooklyn on school supervision, announced Monday that the representatives of the school committees of the towns have agreed to reappoint for another year A. S. Ames as supervisor of the schools in the two towns.

With the reappointment Mr. Ames gets a salary of $1,600, which is an advance of $100 over the present year. Half of Mr. Ames' salary is paid by the state, four-fifths of the other half by the town of Killingly, the remainder by the town of Brooklyn, so the additional cost to the town of Killingly will be only $40.

Next September Mr. Ames will enter upon his fourth year as supervisor of the schools of the towns. His three years of service have been eminently satisfactory. The benefits of supervision are so pronounced as to leave absolutely no room for doubt as to the merits of the system introduced or as to the advisability of continuing it. Mr. Ames has been a very faithful and an exceedingly hard worker. The number of schools in his district necessitates a great amount of travel on his part, the expense of which he meets out of his salary, but he has covered the long routes in all kinds of weather according to a prearranged schedule of periodical visits to all schools and has given much consideration relatively to one school as to another.

Uniformity in the work of similar grades has been striven for by him incessantly and a result has been the attainment of results that are gratifying to all who are interested in the future of pupils as they are about to commence their high school course.

New Lighting Satisfactory.

All comments relative to the new system of lighting Main and Center streets are comments of approval. The tungsten system now in use gives a better distribution of light than was the case with the arcs in use. As a whole, the borough at the present time is generally considered to be better lighted than ever before.

Doing Much Charitable Work.

The appeal for contributions from the Good Samaritan's society is an appeal that is meeting with some response. The work of the organization has always been done without ostentation or flurry, but it has been none the less a work of purest charity, a work that has meant more to the beneficiaries than any publicity has ever indicated.

The Final Settlement Presented.

The Avery Strong Stock company, on a par with the best attractions of the kind that have been at the house, opened at the Orpheum theater Monday evening, with The Final Settlement, a play never before presented here in repertoire.

SIXTY SHOPLIFTERS.

Directory of Petty Thieves Compiled by Business Man.

It is stated that a list of 60 shoplifters has been compiled by one business man. This is an amazing statement to people familiar with trade and traders in Danielson, but it is made as being based on fact. There is a great number of shoplifters have been listed from Danielson stores for years but the number of them has never before been estimated. Some of the shoplifters have been caught red-handed and are now watched every time they enter a store. In almost every case the courtesy and consideration of business men has saved them from exposure. It is understood, however, that the Business Men's association has had the proposition of consideration.

GO RIGHT AT IT

Friends and Neighbors in Norwich Will Show You a Way.

Get at the root of the trouble. Rubbing an aching back may relieve it.

But won't cure it if the kidneys are weak.

You must reach the root of it—the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills go right at it; Reach the cause; attack the pain.

Are recommended by many Norwich people.

E. C. Roath, 5 Thames Street, Norwich, Conn., says: "For a number of years I have used Doan's Kidney Pills when having severe pains in my back and other symptoms of kidney trouble, and they have always rid me of my trouble. I procured this remedy at N. D. Sevin & Son's Drug Store, and since using it I have felt better and stronger in every way."

If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mr. Roath had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 50c all stores.

ing how to deal with this class of people put to it for consideration.

Few people like to be robbed. The business men are no exception to this rule, but it appears they are subject to losses that must amount to considerable in the course of a year and stand them without giving any publicity to such cases as come to their attention. This may not always be the case, though. A list of shoplifters, compiled from what information one business man can give another, may be made up. It is said, and if this is done the present system of espionage upon the police thieves may be more complete and effective than has heretofore been the case.

keeping. Mr. Brown is thoroughly familiar with his subject and has delighted audiences that have heard him.

As far as anything that has developed up to date has shown, there is no connection between the shooting of S. Cady Hutchins at Danielson and the holdup of Nelson Leclair in this city. The authorities are of the opinion that the three men arrested here had nothing to do with the shooting affair at Danielson.

Leaves Politics for Stock Breeding.

Work Advancing Rapidly.

The contracting company building the state road from the Putnam town line southward toward Attawaugan, in the town of Killingly, is advancing the work rapidly. Work on this road was commenced originally last fall. Much progress was made before the work ceased for the winter, so the completed road should be ready for use within a few weeks.

HORRORS OF FLOOD.

Described in Letter from George B. Champlin, Now in West Virginia.

Late letters from George B. Champlin indicate that he has gotten out of the flood district of Ohio, where he has been held up for ten days. The last letter from him was written at Wheeling, W. Va., late Friday night.

In this letter Mr. Champlin says: "I left Columbus this morning at 10 a. m. and arrived here at 9:20 tonight. Under ordinary conditions I would have arrived in four and a half hours, but on account of bridges being swept away and being obliged to walk in transferring, nearly twelve hours were consumed in making the trip."

"I am mighty well pleased to be away from the fearful flood scenes—pressing it. I can only make you realize the horror in a very small way. Nothing in this country, aside from the worst of 1861, compares with it. The Johnstown flood, California earthquake, Galveston flood, the Titanic disaster, southern Ohio has had and is still having. The papers can never begin to exaggerate or describe the conditions, nor can begin to make you—you simply have to see it to realize the situation."

"The whole city of Zanesville is the most pitiful sight I have ever seen or ever want to see again. It is just all jumbled with houses—wrecked, piled high with freight cars, engines, trolley cars, business blocks, bridges, barns and everything imaginable—the same as if you had tumbled high a lot of toy blocks and then tumbled them over. The streets are washed away. Two hundred planes have completely disappeared; no sign of them remains. Bridges washed off the face of the map; wonderful bridges entirely disappeared. Heavy steel freight cars washed miles away, and in many instances disappeared. Freight yards just a tumbled up mass of houses, cars, engines, furniture, lumber and everything under the sun.

"I can write on and on about this dreadful time. In one case a family was driven to third story. Their home was not in the path of the swift current, but was flooded. They had hens and had time to take them to the third story with them, and for three days help could not reach them. The hens laid ten eggs a day and, with bread, these eggs composed the family's food. In another case a cow was rescued and got to the second floor and supplied milk for those present. In one tree 13 people stayed for two days and then were rescued. Whole blocks of houses in West Columbus have been entirely swept away and nothing but cellars remain. No trace can be found of the many fine houses that have disappeared in this manner."

"In some instances houses are found badly wrecked, four miles away from their location; dead bodies found ten miles from where the persons lived, and, of course, many bodies will never be found at all."

Mr. Champlin's letter contains other instances of the terrible devastation caused by the flood, and his description of the damage caused by the wild rush of water constitutes a most readable chapter.

Lowell Couple Married in Putnam, Jan. 27, Now at Variance.

Wedded bliss was short-lived in the case of a couple who were married here on Jan. 27th of the present year, as is indicated by the following from a Lowell, Mass., newspaper:

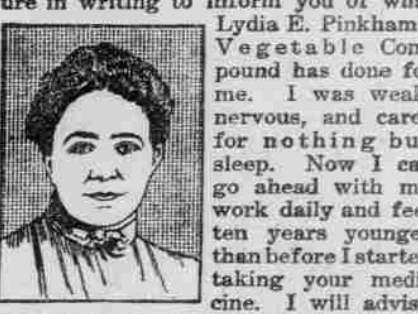

"Notice of divorce proceedings was served on John C. McLaughlin Saturday by a local deputy sheriff. Mrs. McLaughlin, formerly Miss Louise Read, alleges cruel and abusive treatment as the cause of her action. She became the wife of Mr. McLaughlin at Putnam, Conn., on Jan. 27th, and the marriage came as a surprise to friends of both. Mr. McLaughlin states that the charge of cruel and abusive treatment is without foundation and that he will file a cross bill."

Mr. McLaughlin is a hotel proprietor of middle age and his bride is on the sunny side of 20.
